Pre-Sprint User Stories

User Story #1

As a user, I want the website to display to me a header that will direct me to each part of the website, so that it can be easy to navigate across all the site's features without getting lost and help me understand what I can do on the site.

RISK: Medium

PRIORITY: Medium

User Story #2

As a user, I want the website to have a consistent style across all its pages, so I'm not jarred by sudden changes and think I've taken a wrong turn.

RISK: Low

PRIORITY: Low

User Story #3

As a supplier, I want to be able to post listings on the marketplace so that other users can view them and request quotations on them.

RISK: Medium

PRIORITY: High

User Story #4

As a supplier, I want to be able to update and delete the listings I have posted, so that I can accommodate for any change in the product and not be stuck with the original description I gave it or to have delete a listing and add it back again in order for it to change. I would also like to navigate between my listings.

RISK: High

PRIORITY: High

User Story #5

As a general user, I want to be able to view and edit my account credentials once my account is created so that I can update/change my password, or set/change certain important information that might become different overtime without having to make a new account

RISK: Medium

PRIORITY: Medium

User Story #6

As a general user I would like to be able to create an account and be able to log in that account so that all my credentials and information is stored and personalized to my session.

RISK: High

PRIORITY: High

User Story #7

As a general user I would like to be able to access a part of the site that displays all the current listings so that I can observe and browse through the items that are being supplied

RISK: Low

PRIORITY: Medium

User Story #8

As a client user, I would like to add items I've viewed on the marketplace to my personalized cart, so that I can later process the selected listings and purchase all the items that were added there. I would also like it if the site would demand approval from my supervisor in case the sum is over $5000 so that I don't process a sum so large without approval.
